By selecting Klopotek, publishers get what they need for completing essential tasks: innovative, interactive apps & a direct connection to people who support them with inspiring ideas

Klopotek is recruiting: Software Support Consultant

Klopotek is the world's leading provider of information systems and consultancy services for book and content publishers (all media) in Europe (Germany and Austria, France, Great Britain, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy) and North America (USA and Canada). Our main offices are in Berlin, New York, London, Amsterdam, Paris, and our development centres are located in Germany (Berlin) and Italy (Bari). Klopotek ERP for publishers is used by more than 400 publishing houses worldwide in the areas of author contract management, work and product management, direct sales management, etc.

As part of our growth, supported by the Cloud version of Klopotek software now available in eight languages, we are looking for software support professionals to participate in needs analysis, installation and editor support projects. Join us if you want to help publishers and media companies adapt to digital change by providing innovative software and services. Our publishing software and consultancy services are an essential element in the publishing market to support change. Our customers include large corporations as well as creative independent publishers. We can only meet their expectations with creative individuals in our teams.

For our office in Paris, Amsterdam or Berlin we're currently looking for a Software Support Consultant (m/f/d).

YOUR PROFILE:

- You have a background in publishing or IT
- Publishing software or ERP systems are not entirely new to you
- You are a fast learner, analytical person and a team player
- Fluency in English and French is essential, German would be an advantage

WHAT WE OFFER:

- Comprehensive training and a mentor to help you get started at Klopotek
- An international team and the opportunity to work with our other offices
- Flexible working hours and the possibility of working (partly) from home

Do you want to join our group? You'll work in an international team with fluid hierarchies and have your own responsibilities from the start. More than 14,000 users work with our software - by joining us, you'll be helping to make life easier for professionals in the publishing and media industry. When it comes to your working hours and work-life balance requirements, we are as flexible as possible and are always open to your ideas for personal development.

Join us - together we can achieve more!

We would be happy to meet you.

Please send your CV and covering letter to the attention of Gabi Frenz.
Don't forget to include a salary range and your availability.
